He has also written award-winning bridge software as well as several best-selling publications: To Bid or Not to Bid about the LAW Of Total Tricks and the sequel, Following the LAW. Aboard the Maasdam

At 720', the ms Maasdam, stunningly renovated this past April, accommodates fewer guests in more space than ships of similar size. The ship's theme recalls the historic exploits of the Dutch East and West India Companies and boasts an impressive collection of art reflecting this period, as well as a wealth of modern sculptures and paintings. Dining is a delicious adventure, with many cuisines and venues to choose from: the elegant Main Dining Room, the intimate Pinnacle Grill, and the informal Lido Restaurant. Beautifully appointed cabins offer top-of-the-line comforts: massage showers and soothing bath amenities, flat-panel TV/DVD players, complimentary fresh fruits. Service on Holland America is in a class by itself.

Brilliant Foliage and Unique Ports

Oct. 6, 2012 - Depart Montréal, Canada, and Scenic Cruising on the St. Lawrence River. The French-English flavor of Montréal is captivating—the cobblestones of the lamp-lit Old City, heavenly Notre-Dame Basilica, street fairs in Place Jacques-Cartier.

Oct. 7, 2012 - Québec City and Scenic Cruising at Saguenay Fjord. A tree-lined “Champs-Élysées”, great cuisine, the lilt of French, a grand château on the river...Canada, or is it France? It's both—a French bastion in North America, and a city of great charm.

Oct. 8, 2012 - Saguenay. An arts and crafts center, Saguenay is a traveler's entree to some of the best scenery in North America: majestic fjords, rocky capes and picturesque hamlets are all here.

Oct. 9, 2012 - Baie-Comeau. A beautifully situated town at the meeting of the Manicouagan and Saint Lawrence Rivers, with much to offer: visit the lovely Quartier Sainte-Amélie, learn about wildlife at the Maison de la Faune. Or see the new Centre Boréal, a fascinating Glacier Center, to experience a simulated glacier in motion.

Oct. 10, 2012 - Gaspé and Scenic Cruising at Gaspé Bay. With a rugged coastline dotted with fishing villages and lighthouses, the Gaspé is a vast wildlife haven. Caribou and elk roam freely, eagles and puffins fly over quiet coves. Marvel at Percé Rock and watch as this geologic wonder changes color as the sun travels across the sky.

Oct. 11, 2012 - Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island. The small but historic capital of PEI is perfect for a walking tour, shopping, and a fine seaside lobster lunch.

Oct. 12, 2012 - Sydney, Nova Scotia. The port for the Cape Breton region of Nova Scotia is a center for many rewarding excursions. Suggestions: the 18th century Fortress of Louisbourg, Bras D'Or Lakes Tour, the Cape Breton Mine Experience.

Oct. 13, 2012 - Halifax. Maritime scenery at its finest: craggy coasts, stunning Peggy's Cove, and the restored village of Lunenburg.

Oct. 14, 2012 - Bar Harbor, Maine.

Once an exclusive summer resort of America's elite, Bar Harbor is an artists' enclave and the gateway to Acadia National Park. If lobster is your thing, this is where...

Oct. 15, 2012 - at sea

Oct. 16, 2012 - at sea

Oct. 17, 2012 - at sea

Oct. 18, 2012 - Port Canaveral, Florida. For the excursion-minded, Port Canaveral is near both trendy Cocoa Beach and the Kennedy Space Center, both great options for a break from bridge.

Oct. 19, 2012 - Disembark, Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.
